An informational guide to the many resources providing aid to seniors in the northwest suburban area

Northwestern Suburban Housing Collaborative Boundaries

About This Guide

The Northwest Suburban Housing Collaborative (NWSHC) was created in 2011 to help the Villages of Arlington Heights, Buffalo Grove, Mount Prospect, and Palatine and the City of Rolling Meadows develop regional solutions to address the short and long-term housing needs of the participating communities.

The NWSHC received a technical assistance grant from the Chicago Metropolitan Agency for Planning with support from the Metropolitan Mayors Caucus to conduct a Homes for a Changing Region analysis which provides projections concerning future housing needs in the 5-community area. Following up on the results of the Homes for a Changing Region report, the NWSHC decided to prioritize the housing needs of senior citizens and contracted for an in-depth senior housing needs assessment for the Collaborative area.

In the Senior Housing Needs Assessment (November 2013) it was concluded that many seniors are unaware of resources available to them, particularly with respect to transportation and housing. This Senior Resource Guide was created to compile information about senior transportation and housing options available in the 5-community area. The Senior Resource Guide also includes a listing of referral agencies for senior services.

Since many services are split by municipality as well as by Township, the following information has been organized to clarify which transportation, housing, or service is eligible within your region.

Unsure which Township you live?

City / Village	Township(s)
Arlington Heights	Elk Grove / Wheeling / Palatine
Buffalo Grove	Vernon / Wheeling
Mount Prospect	Elk Grove / Wheeling
Rolling Meadows	Elk Grove / Palatine / Schaumburg / Wheeling

Affordable Independent Living - is for low-income seniors who usually must meet low income eligibility requirements to qualify for units. Generally, meals are not included in the monthly rent. Some amenities such as or multi-purpose rooms and activities may be provided.

Continuum of Care Retirement Communities – typically provide three levels of care – independent living, assisted living, and skilled nursing. They can include independent apartments, cottages, assisted living apartments, and nursing home rooms. They usually require an entry fee plus a monthly fee. There are many variations with financing, but the entry fees are usually upwards of $100,000 and are partially refundable based on a resident's length of stay. Unlike condominium, residents do not buy a fee simple interest in their unit.

Market Rate Independent Living - is for those who want to live in a senior age-restricted building. Some or all meals may be provided. They are more likely to be rental apartments, but may be for-sale condominiums, and are typically studio, one, or two bedroom units. Amenities may include a community or multi-purpose room, exercise equipment, computers, transportation, and some activities.

Market Rate Assisted Living – is for seniors who need assistance with activities of daily living such as bathing, dressing, medication management, etc. All meals are included and nurses and nurse's aides are on staff.

Market Rate Memory Care – is for those with Alzheimer's and other forms of dementia who require specialized care beyond what is typically available in assisted living.

Skilled Nursing – is what people typically think of as nursing homes and usually have long term residents as well as those requiring short term rehabilitation after an illness or surgery.
