

Market Development Initiative (MDI)

ComEd MDI offers the resources and training needed to become part of the growing and rewarding energy efficiency field. Now available to individuals, entrepreneurs, contractors, vendors, and service organizations at no cost to you!

Resources available to you:

Training & Development

New to energy efficiency? Already working in the industry? We'll meet you where you are by offering training and certifications that will help you advance your energy-efficiency career.

Diverse Vendor Resources

If you're a diverse business owner looking to expand into energy efficiency, we can help you gain access to business opportunities by including you in our diverse vendor database.

Service Provider Tools & Resources

If you're in the business of helping customers save energy, join our EESP network. We'll provide tools and tailored support to help your business navigate and grow in the energy-efficiency industry.

Community Collaboration

If you'd like to help individuals and businesses in your community, we'd love to hear from you. We're looking to partner with community-based organizations to support a meaningful impact in people's lives via energy efficiency career opportunities.

To learn more, scan the QR code or visit: ComEd.com/MDI

